WELCOME

WELCOME ADDRESS

This Symposium is a tribute to Prof. André Schroeder whose long career at the University of Berne has enriched so many lives both academically and personally. His activities in the field of operative dentistry/endodontics and implant dentistry have been outstanding and have significantly influenced modern dentistry till today.

We will celebrate the 30th anniversary of his first experimental paper published in 1976 that provided for the first time the true histologic evidence of osseointegration with direct bone-to-implant contact in non-decalcified sections. At that time, these findings were a scientific sensation. Together with the excellent work of Prof. P.-I. Brånemark, both have laid the scientific basis for the remarkable progress with osseointegrated implants in the past three decades.

We have invited a group of internationally well-known experts and leaders in the field of implant therapy. Some of them have witnessed the whole development of implant dentistry in these 30 years. The speakers will present the state-of-the-art and future perspectives in implant therapy. The panel discussion at the end of each session will provide an interesting exchange of various opinions to relevant topics in this field.

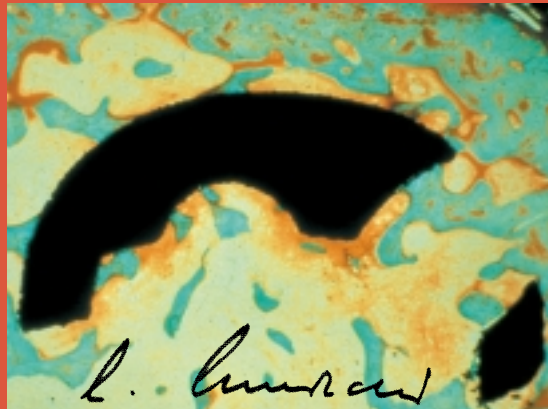

We encourage you to come to Berne and participate in this international symposium in excellent congress facilities of the Allegro Kursaal in Berne. Besides an interesting scientific program, we also offer an attractive social program with a welcome reception in the Zentrum Paul Klee on Thursday evening and a Gala Dinner on Friday evening in the Arena of the Allegro Kursaal. In addition, the charming city of Berne offers a unique atmosphere for shopping, dining and other activities.

Prof. Dr. Daniel Buser
Chairman, Congress Committee

07.00 P.M. WELCOME RECEPTION AT THE ZENTRUM PAUL KLEE

On June 20, 2005, the Zentrum Paul Klee opened its doors to visitors and art lovers from all over the world. At the heart of this new cultural institution is the life and work of artist Paul Klee (1879-1940). Today, Paul Klee, who was also a musician, teacher and poet, ranks as one of the 20th century's most significant artists. The Zentrum Paul Klee, in Berne, where the artist spent half of his life, is already considered a monument of international renown and a personal tribute to Klee.

For this centre of excellence on all matters relating to Paul Klee, a traditional museum is not what the commissioned world-renowned Italian architect, Renzo Piano, had in mind to create. Renzo Piano's in-depth involvement with the entire project included his respect for the terrain of the eastern outskirts of Berne where the complex is located. It is this landscape that gave him the idea to create a spacious island of green from which the architecture would emerge in the form of three undulating waves. The resulting Landscape Sculpture, in its entirety, has become a focus of interest and a destination in its own right.

Minimum participants: 20 persons
CHF 15 per person

BERNESE OBERLAND – NIESEN

The pyramid-shaped peak of the Niesen is a popular excursion destination. On the way you will have a stop at Thun – the gate of the Bernese Oberland. The trip from Mülenen to the top is by funicular. Panoramic views extend from Lake Thun and the Bernese Alps to the Black Forest in neighbouring Germany.

Friday, May 5, 2006 / 09.00 a.m.–04.00 p.m.
Minimum participants: 20 persons
Included services: Bus transfer Berne–Thun–Mülenen–Berne, guide, train ticket to the top of the mount Niesen and return, lunch (3 courses, exclusive beverages) CHF 140 per person

STEP TO STEP THROUGH CHARMING BERNE
Take a tour of the Matte district on the banks of the river Aare, an imposing yet cosy «village» with its fascinating natural waters and climatically favoured vegetation.

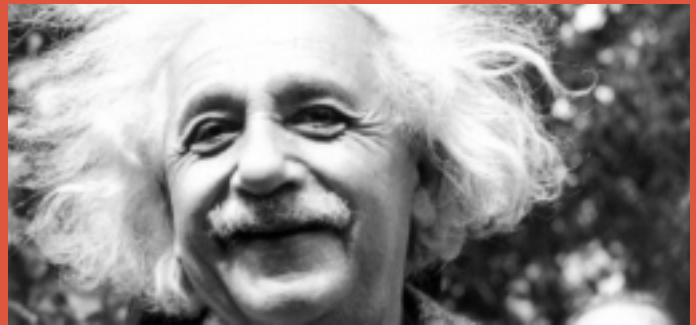

Climb the steps and steep slopes to discover some familiar and some not so familiar landmarks on this journey of discovery. The «Senkeltram» – the «steepest tramline in the world» – is actually an elevator, but has been called the «Senkeltram» in Berne since time immemorial. It connects the Cathedral platform to the oldest district of the town – the Matte. Enjoy this nostalgic trip!

Friday, May 5, 2006 / 09.30 a.m.–11.30 a.m.
Minimum participants: 20 persons
Included services: Guide and ticket «Senkeltram»
CHF 17 per person

VISIT OF HISTORICAL MUSEUM – MAJOR SPECIAL EXHIBITION ALBERT EINSTEIN (1879–1955)

Albert Einstein was living in Berne a century ago, when he created the famous formula $E=mc^2$ and revolutionized our ideas about space and time with his Theory of Relativity. His commitment to peace and social justice also made him a role model for man throughout the world.

Friday, May 5, 2006 / 02.00 p.m.
Minimum participants: 20 persons
Included services: Guide, entry and guided tour of the life and work of Albert Einstein
CHF 47 per person

VISIT OF THE ZENTRUM PAUL KLEE

The guided tour of the permanent collection presentation and the highlights of the Zentrum Paul Klee's collection such as the Tunisia watercolours and the large-scale paintings of Paul Klee's late work are an invitation to discover and admire.

Individual transfer back to the town centre is not included in the price!

Saturday, May 6, 2006 / 01.00 p.m.

CITY OF BERNE

INFO BERNE

Berne was founded in 1191 by Duke Berchtold V of Zähringen as a western bastion to protect his territory. The city was extended in various stages (Clock Tower by 1218, Prison Tower 1256, Christoffel Tower 1344). In 1353 Berne entered the Swiss Confederation.

underlined by hundreds of geraniums which decorate the windows of the old town in summer. Everything looks so colorful that Berne was awarded the prize of Europe's most flower decorated city. The area of agglomeration of Berne is 184 km² (62 sq. miles) and it has a population of approximately 300'000.

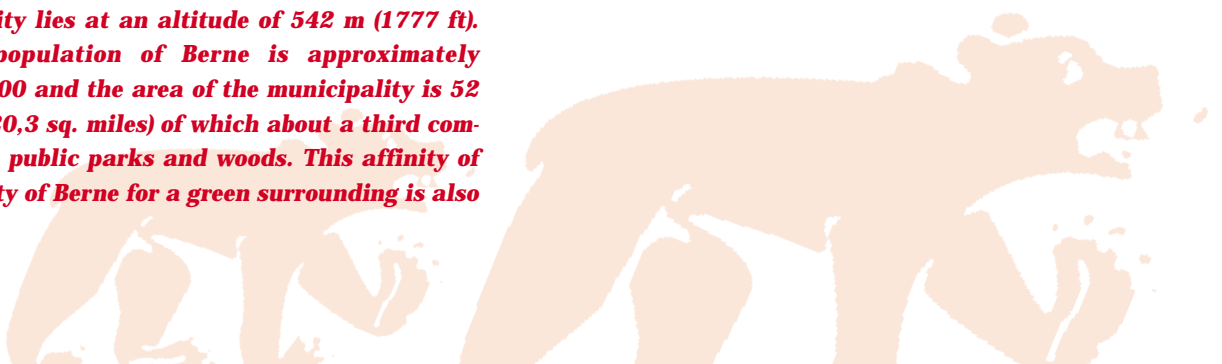

INFO BERNE

After the Great Fire of 1405 - when most of the mainly wooden buildings were destroyed - Berne was rebuilt in sandstone. The medieval townscape created at that time has been largely preserved to this day. It is on account of this unspoiled appearance that Berne was declared a World Cultural Heritage by Unesco. Between the 14th and the 16th century, Berne reached the zenith of its power, when its political influence was considerable. 1528 the Reformation. 1798 invasion by French troops and collapse of the Ancien Régime of Berne. In 1834, Berne became a university city. In 1848 it was granted the status of the Federal Capital of Switzerland. The city is also capital of the state of Berne (the country's second largest state).

As the Federal Capital of Switzerland, Berne is the seat of the diplomatic corps and international organizations including the Universal Postal Union (a specialized agency of the United Nations). Berne's varied industrial and commercial activities cover such key sectors as machinery, metal, electrical equipment, telecommunication, rotary printing presses, pharmaceuticals, textiles, chocolate, foodstuffs, the graphics industry, banking and insurance.

The city lies at an altitude of 542 m (1777 ft). The population of Berne is approximately 130'000 and the area of the municipality is 52 km² (20,3 sq. miles) of which about a third comprises public parks and woods. This affinity of the city of Berne for a green surrounding is also
